I have been accustomed, on its recurring anniversaries, when possible, to call attention to its early life, and to trace its development from period to period. As now, another year has just been added, closing up its first nine years; and as, in the course of nature, each year diminishes the number of those who were conversant with its humble beginning, I can not, perhaps, do a greater service to the College, than by asking your patient attention, while I endeavor to recount, and to place on record, somewhat in detail, its important history. As one of the consequences of the great and general reaction which commenced soon after the close of the late Civil War, the attention of thinking, patriotic men was, with new interest, aroused to the necessity for a more complete and more generally...
