C, June 21, 1871. His father is Marion Sevier Glenn. Both of his parents are native North Carolinians. His Grandfather, Eli Glenn, was born in Eastern North Carolina, in 1812. At the age of eighteen he wended his way across the Blue Ridge and settled in Buncombe County. Dr. Glenn lived and worked on his father s farm until he was seventeen years old, attending free school in the winter, and developing muscle and brawn on the farm in summer. From 1887 to 1889 he was in high school and from there he was placed under a private instructor. He was ambitious for a better education and continued study at Weaver College, Weaverville, N. C., graduating with the class of 1891. In September, 1892, he began the study of medicine at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, Pa., from which he was graduated in 1896 at the head of his class. After graduating he worked as physician in St. Timothy s Hospital, Roxborough, Philadelphia, laying a solid foundation for the superstructure which he has built. After spending some time in the Philadelphia hospitals he returned to North Carolina, secured his license to practice medicine in this State in 1896 and joined the North Carolina Medical Society in 1899. Since that date he has been a regular attendant and only on very few occasions has he failed to read papers at the annual meetings. Usually his paper deals with some surgical subject, giving his experiences which are always listened to with great interest and are considered...
