Joy means the perfect fulfillment of that which I was created. not the successful doing of a thing -Oswald Chambers This book is an invitation to invite more joy into your life. Prayers, bible stories, stories and action steps set up in a journal format to walk you onto the path of joy. Initially I think we all buy into the idea that we can become whatever it is we want to be. We set our sight on something that feels important or equates to what success looks like. We strive and pursue this goal with all our energy and we make it to the finish line. We acquire the degree. We buy in a little more and attain that second degree. Then we move on to certifications. Now that those are stockpiled, where is the golden ticket of joy? These accomplishments many times are just little illusions spinning in the wind that, unless we are able to really bring them together in light of what we are created to be, start to feel downright oppressive. NOW what are you going to do? You spent all that money on your future, drowning in student loans and you decided you are best fit for running a catering business? You want to work with the homeless? That is not very lucrative you know. What will your family think? Your friends? Can you really get past the guilt of all the investment you put into that other thing? Joy. Where does it come from? It seems to me that it comes from a place of contentment. Even if the title or the label does not align with the degrees and...
